OUR FALL CONFERENCE SPEAKER

DR. DANIEL B. WALLACE

Dr. Wallace influences students across the country through his textbook on intermediate Greek grammar. It has become the standard textbook in the English-speaking world on that subject. He is a member of the Society of New Testament Studies, the Institute for Biblical Research, the Society of Biblical Literature, and the Evangelical Theological Society, of which he was president in 2016.

Dr. Wallace is also the senior New Testament editor of the NET Bible, and a member of the Committee on Bible Translation, which is responsible for revisions to the NIV.

He works extensively in textual criticism, and founded the Center for the Study of New Testament Manuscripts (csntm.org), an institute with an initial purpose of preserving Scripture by taking digital photographs of all known Greek New Testament manuscripts. He has traveled the world in search of biblical manuscripts. His postdoctoral work includes Greek grammar at Tyndale House in Cambridge, text-critical studies at the Institut für Neutestamentliche Textforschung in Münster, and the Universität Tübingen, Germany.

Dr. Wallace and his wife, Pati, have four adult sons, two daughters-in-law, three granddaughters, and one grandson.

the CENTER for the STUDY of

MANUSCRIPTS

Skeptics claim that the New Testament we read today doesn't reflect the original writings of the Apostles. Yet the ancient manuscripts that have carried God's Word through the centuries still testify to its preservation.

CSNTM preserves and studies these manuscripts, creating and publishing high-resolution digital images so scholars and non-scholars alike can examine them and see the reliability of the New Testament we have today.
